Collect for the Sixth Sunday

O God, who teach us that you abide in hearts that are just and true, grant that we may be so fashioned by your grace as to become a dwelling pleasing to you.

From the Catechism, on man's freedom, nn. 1739-1740

Man's freedom is limited and fallible. In fact, man failed. He freely sinned. By refusing God's plan of love, he deceived himself and became a slave to sin. This first alienation engendered a multitude of others. From its outset, human history attests the wretchedness and oppression born of the human heart in consequence of the abuse of freedom. The exercise of freedom does not imply a right to say or do everything. It is false to maintain that man, "the subject of this freedom," is "an individual who is fully self-sufficient and whose finality is the satisfaction of his own interests in the enjoyment of earthly goods." Moreover, the economic, social, political, and cultural conditions that are needed for a just exercise of freedom are too often disregarded or violated. Such situations of blindness and injustice injure the moral life and involve the strong as well as the weak in the temptation to sin against charity. By deviating from the moral law man violates his own freedom, becomes imprisoned within himself, disrupts neighborly fellowship, and rebels against divine truth.

From the Pastor's Desk

Although all of Acadiana is gearing up for Mardi Gras, we at St Patrick's are already looking forward to St Patrick's Day!

Our St Patrick's breakfast social is scheduled for Saturday, March 14, beginning at 8 a.m., at City Club in River Ranch. Sign-up begins next weekend. There is no cost to attend. This event is simply about time together in faith and in fellowship, time to meet fellow St Patricians in a casual and relaxed atmosphere.

At this social, I encourage you to get to know people you don't already know. We may see each other at Mass, but we don't know each other. Our parish socials are just the right occasion to slow down and visit with familiar faces and learn the names of your fellow St Patricians! We already have a lot in common: our Catholic faith, our love of St Patrick's!

Toward the end of the breakfast, there is a drawing for door prizes. If you'd like to, I encourage you to bring a small gift as a door prize. It is a way of contributing to the fun of the parish breakfast celebration.

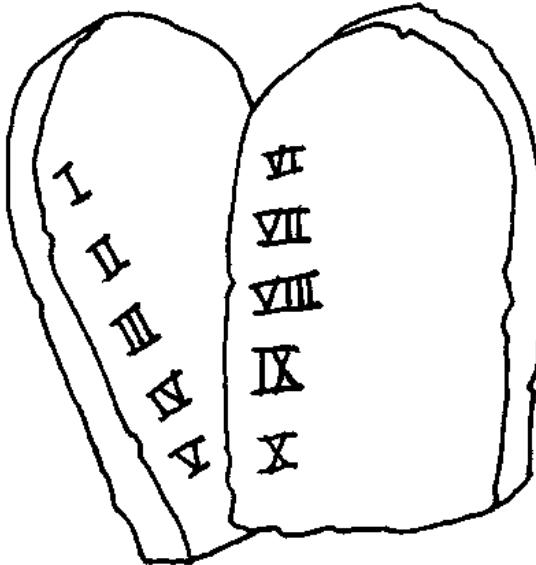

The readings for this Sunday's Mass heavily feature the commandments of God. Not just the Ten Commandments as we've come to know them, but the word that God speaks, which we must hear and obey.

The first reading from Sirach, one of the wisdom books of the Old Testament, draws a connection between the immense wisdom of the Lord and the commandments that he gives. God's commandments arise from his wisdom, which is why Sirach states that those who choose to keep the commandments are saved by the commandments. With knowledge of the wisdom of God as expressed in God's commandments, the choice between life and death, good and evil, is before us.

St Paul, too, in our second reading from 1 Corinthians, says that his preaching and message is a revelation of God's wisdom, a wisdom meant for us and for our glory. Those who are attentive to this wisdom, to the teachings of the Lord Jesus, and who live by it, will inherit everlasting life: "what eye has not seen, and ear has not heard, and what has not entered this human heart." Keeping God's commandments is true wisdom, which leads to life.
